Thank you
Michelle Louise Brunet Photography
for providing the photos.
Chief Dolores O’Donaghey

Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Chief Dolores O’Donaghey welcomes guests to the Boston Bar First Nation’s traditional territory at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Maurice Michell, Marilyn Isaac and Sooyeon Zacharias of the Siska First Nation perform at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
John Field

Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Mr. John Field, Pacific Salmon Commission Executive Secretary, speaks at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Chief Fred Sampson

Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Chief Fred Sampson of the Siska Nation speaks at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Chief Bob Pasco

Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Chief Bob Pasco of the Nlaka’pamux Nation Tribal Council speaks at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Lorraine Loomis

Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Ms. Lorraine Loomis, member of the Swinomish tribe and Vice-Chair of the Pacific Salmon Commission’s Fraser River Panel speaks at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Anne Callaghan, U.S. Consul General in Vancouver

Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Ms. Anne Callaghan, U.S. Consul General in Vancouver, speaks at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
M.P. Cathy McLeod

Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Ms. Cathy McLeod, Member of Parliament for Kamloops—Thompson—Cariboo, and Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of National Revenue, speaks at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Ms. Cathy McLeod, Member of Parliament for Kamloops—Thompson—Cariboo, and Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of National Revenue, speaks at a ceremony celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013 - Left to right: Chief Bob Pasco, Nlaka’pamux Nation Tribal Council, Chief Dolores O’Donaghey of the Boston Bar First Nation, John Field, Executive Secretary of the Pacific Salmon Commission, MP Cathy McLeod, Lorraine Loomis of the Swinomish Tribe, Anne Callaghan, U.S. Consul General in Vancouver and Chief Fred Sampson of the Siska First Nation unveil plaques commemorating the Hell’s Gate rocksides that sparked 100 years of cooperation on Fraser River salmon.
Hell's Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013 - Left to right: Chief Bob Pasco, Nlaka'pamux Nation Tribal Council, Chief Dolores O’Donaghey of the Boston Bar First Nation, John Field, Executive Secretary of the Pacific Salmon Commission, MP Cathy McLeod, Lorraine Loomis of the Swinomish Tribe, Anne Callaghan, U.S. Consul General in Vancouver and Chief Fred Sampson of the Siska First Nation unveil plaques commemorating the Hell’s Gate rockslides that sparked 100 years of cooperation on Fraser River salmon. Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013.
Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. M.P. Cathy McLeod, Pacific Salmon Commission Executive Secretary John Field, and Pacific Salmon Foundation President Dr. Brian Riddell at a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Hell’s Gate, B.C. August 22, 2013. Dr. Brian Riddell, President of the Pacific Salmon Foundation, Ms. Joyce Murray, M. P. for Vancouver Quadra, Ms. Anne Callaghan, U.S. Consul General in Vancouver, and Mr. Joe Salazar, Deputy Principal Officer at the U.S. Consulate General in Vancouver attend a ceremony commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River Salmon.
Plaques commemorating the rock slides at Hell’s Gate and celebrating 100 years of cooperation in restoring and managing Fraser River salmon were unveiled at a ceremony at Hell’s Gate, B.C. on August 22, 2103.
Construction of the fishways at Hell’s Gate, B.C. May 16, 1945.
Construction of the fishways at Hell’s Gate, B.C. May 26, 1945.